PORADA, FROM 1948

Everything was born from the love of wood. Solid wood is worked with the craftsmanship of those who know how to turn a log into a piece of artwork. Porada has its origin from this passion.

The company was established in 1968 by Luigi Allievi with the aim of expanding the production of chairs, started in 1948. Excellent quality and considerable experience in wood manufacturing soon gave the Company a solid and well-defined identity, which nowadays expresses itself in refined products that contribute to design a domestic environment, where one's everyday living needs are met. The main strength of Porada is also something else. Something that has nothing to do with the quality of the materials or cutting-edge machinery. It's the human factor.

They're people who for years have become part of this family, who treat products as they would do with something of their own, putting all their care and passion in their daily work. Work that in half a century has managed to turn the founder's dream into reality.

CATTELAN ITALIA was established in 1979. Cattelan, manufacturing initially “marble” elements, such as tables and coffee tables, focusing the business towards the export market. In no time at all the firm achieved very favourable results throughout USA, Europe and the Far East.

Today Cattelan Italia is proud to be displayed in more than 2500 of the most prestigious showrooms in 104 countries around the world.

To support this wide distribution network, a selection of agents has been set up in all the countries. This is reinforced by the presence of Cattelan Italia in all the major International Fairs such as Cologne, Paris, Valencia, Moscow, Courtrai and of course Milan.

The smell of wood, the art of creating a piece of furniture was part of the family heritage, where 5 out of 7 brothers continued, in different ways, the family tradition in the field of furniture.

Since we were set up in 1956, we have taken part in trade fairs throughout the world.

Always in the front line... whether with stands in Milan or High Point in North Carolina (where we have taken part without a break for twenty), or the first at Crocus in Moscow.

This is also typical of Italian style, proudly showing off what we have designed and made. For example, in our exclusive showroom at 200 Lexington Avenue, New York, in London, or Japan, or Canada, or even Russia.
